EURAMET Symposium 2015, Thursday 4th June 2015

“Metrology meeting the challenges in energy, environment and health”

Metrology in chemistry as a smart specialization of Poland: the collaboration between Główny Urząd Miar and University of Warsaw

Professor Ewa Bulska

In her talk Professor Ewa Bulska presents the common activities of the Biological and Chemical Research Center of the University of Warsaw and Główny Urząd Miar (GUM, the Central Office of Measures) in Poland, towards the development of modern metrology in chemistry.

The collaboration between both institutions covers various activities, from providing post-graduate training courses to participation in projects related to chemical certified reference materials, such as joint research projects within EURAMET's European Metrology Research Programmes.

In her talk Professor Bulska will introduce the agreement between the Ministry of Economy, Główny Urząd Miar and the University of Warsaw signed in 2014. It shall become the framework for developing new activities towards innovation in the area of metrology in chemistry.
